

Thursday 4th March 2021

Key Learning: to write a letter

Context: The Three Little Narwhals

Success Criteria:

- To identify the features of a letter
- To generate ideas of how the shark can apologise to the narwhals
- To write a range of sentence types with correct punctuation
- To write a letter with correct genre features

What address are you going to make up for the shark?

Handwriting practice lines for the address question, consisting of 15 horizontal lines alternating between blue and red colors.

What is the shark apologising for?

Handwriting practice lines for the apology question, consisting of 15 horizontal lines alternating between blue and red colors.

Practise and consider

Independent

Write a letter from the shark to the three little narwhals, apologising for trying to eat their houses and trying to make it up to them. Remember to set out your letter correctly, or use the template on the blog post: