

Year 1 Block 1

History Knowledge Organiser

Theme: Were my grandparents' toys better than mine?

Key Knowledge

Our grandparents had very different childhoods to our own. Life was very different back then and our grandparents had different toys, clothes and schools. We can notice the similarities and differences between these.

The past is any time before now. We were babies in the past. This morning is in the past. The past is also the time before we were born. The present is now and what happens now. Objects and toys in the past were different.

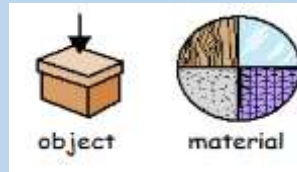

They were made of different things and children played with them in different ways. The objects and toys from our parents' childhoods are different to those of our grandparents. The lives of my grandparents and parents happened before our lives. They were babies and children once. We can learn about the past by looking at photographs and talking to people who were there.
